As a subscriber, you add to the richness of the performance seasons we provide. Our 2018-19 season is called the Ventana Series, and when you receive our Season Brochure, you'll understand why.

For now, know that we hope you will be a member of the arts community we are building—students and faculty in partnership with our invaluable arts patrons. This is your opportunity to help shape our future.

At the same time, we offer this brief history of UA Dance so that you can fully appreciate the steep ascent we are on. From "committee" status in 1994 to becoming its own School, UA Dance is now one of the top programs in the country. Wave after wave of dancers have performed as members of the UA Dance Ensemble. With the award-winning Stevie Eller Dance Theatre as its home, UA Dance offers 40 - 50 concerts a year in Tucson, and has performed in 14 different countries across Europe, Asia and South America. Invitations to perform in important venues in this country include the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C. and the Joyce Theater in New York City.

So please put a hold on your calendar for the dates that follow and join us for the Ventana Series! A subscription to our 2018-19 season is your window to UA Dance...
